DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

Honor In The Body | 1 Corinthians 12:12-27 · Romans 12:3-10 · Ephesians 4:11-16

PURPOSE

Use these questions to examine how honor shapes life in the Body of Christ. Discuss visibility, gifts, leadership, peers, service, competition, receiving from others, and what it means to recognize God's provision through every member.

- 01 Why do titles, platforms, visibility, or responsibility sometimes affect how much value we assign to someone in church?
What does 1 Corinthians 12 challenge about that instinct?
- 02 Paul says one member cannot say to another, 'I don't need you.' Who are the people or ministries we may unintentionally treat as unnecessary?
What might God be providing through people we tend to overlook?
- 03 What does it mean to honor people who are not 'above' us in rank but beside us in function?
Why can honoring peers sometimes be harder than honoring recognized leaders?
- 04 How should we understand pastors, elders, mentors, and ministry leaders without turning responsibility into spiritual superiority?
How does Ephesians 4 connect leadership with equipping the saints rather than creating dependency?
- 05 What happens to the Body when service becomes competition for recognition, influence, or credit?
How can we genuinely celebrate another person's gift without interpreting it as a threat to our own?
- 06 Why is receiving from others also an expression of honor?
Are there forms of help, correction, wisdom, or service that pride makes difficult for us to receive?
- 07 How should a healthy church respond to emerging gifts, younger voices, quieter servants, or people whose contribution looks different from what we are used to?
What is the difference between discernment and dismissiveness?
- 08 If Casa DC became increasingly known as a culture of honor, what would people experience in the way we serve one another?
Identify one person whose contribution you can intentionally recognize and strengthen this week.

CLOSE WITH THIS IDEA

"Learning to honor those who are not 'above' us in rank but beside us in function is essential to building a true Kingdom culture."
